1 Introduction

Gawadar district education sector plan flows from the provincial Balochistan Education Sector Plan (BESP). Many of the strategies in the document derive from the BESP but have been adjusted according to the needs of the district and its position, and limitations, in the governance structure. The aspects of access, equity, quality and governance and management have all been covered.

It appears that district options get most limited in case of quality as most quality related supply institutions are at the provincial level. However, the sector plan emphasizes the need for the district to get more involved, and proactive, approach. Also they need to take more responsibility for quality of the teaching and learning process.

Gawadar district faces a number of education related challenges in terms of access and quality both. Article 25A of the Constitution of the Islamic Republic of Pakistan has been made the basis of the targets faced by the district. BESP also used the same framework for the provincial indicators. The Article stipulates provision of free and compulsory education for children between ages 5 to 16 as a fundamental right. The Constitution allows each province to prepare its own law for implementation. Government of Balochistan has already passed 'Balochistan Compulsory Education Act 2014'. This Act makes the government responsible for bearing all the education-related costs inclusive of stationery, schoolbags, school meals and transport for the children falling in the aforementioned age group. This bill further stipulates that free and compulsory education will be imparted to every child regardless of sex, nationality, race or disability in a neighborhood school. Moreover under the Act the quality of education will also be ensured in all the institutions of the province by providing equal facilities to them.

Table 1.1: Indicators Framework

NER Middle	49	≈ 100
NER Secondary	25	≈ 100

Survival Rate Secondary	89	≈ 100
Transition Rate Katchi to Primary	67	≈ 100

Transition Rate Middle to Secondary	80	≈ 100

Table 1.1 shows the set of indicators for Article 25 A, or more directly, the 'Balochistan Compulsory Education Act 2014. These cover a wide array. It can be seen that the results cannot be achieved with a focus on access alone. Quality of education will need to be improved to ensure better survival rates and also increased effort is required in quality of early childhood education.

BESP has already indicated this point and a provincial policy on ECE has been made. This needs to be implemented.

The Gawadar District Education Sector Plan is cognizant of the horizontal and vertical relationships across the various strategies. Where required, these linkages have been mentioned in the District Education Sector Plan. In addition to the chapter on methodology and implementation, access and equity, quality and governance and management have been covered.

Each chapter discusses the existing situation and the problems being faced by the district and is followed by a set of objectives and strategies for improvement.

2 Methodology & Process

The exercise was drawn on experience gained in the past through the preparation of district EFA plans, as well as Early Childhood Education (ECE) Provincial Plans. Additionally information was gleaned from other sources and a widespread consultative process was launched in each district.

2.1 Methodology

Methodology adopted for development of district education sector plans was a blend of desk research and field consultations with relevant stakeholders and key informants.

2.1.1.1.1 Desk Research

Desk review involved consulting the BESP, Provincial Education Sector Analysis, District EFA Plans, ECE Policy, District ECE Plans, BEMIS, District budgets (3 to 5 years), population projections, Economic Survey and ASER reports and any other relevant study.

2.1.2 Consultations

It involved qualitative interviews with district officials and relevant stakeholders. The questionnaire for qualitative in-depth interviews were developed on the issues around economic endowments of the districts, linguistic issues, rural and urban divide, gender issues and qualitative issues in education, specific to the district. The consultations helped develop district level priorities. Education providers from private sector and senior educationists in the district were also consulted.

2.1.3 Stakeholders Involvement

Stakeholders involved throughout the processes for development of district plans to gain their commitment. District Education Authorities/Managers, school level personnel, community, district administration, political leadership, PPIU, DOS, CSOs working at district level and other relevant stakeholders regularly involved through consultations. The support from these stakeholders was very crucial for the success of this exercise. Specifically there were initial meetings with district education officials to explain the concept and process, sharing of identified strategies and targets with DOS, PPIU and also districts and divisional officers for their feedback after the prioritization of strategies and target areas and finally before finalization of district plans, the initial drafts will be shared with relevant stakeholders.

2.2 Process for DEPs Development:

A three step process was followed for the development of district plans. At the first step sector analysis was conducted followed by identification and prioritization of strategies (picked from within BESP) for the districts. District plans were developed using these strategies.

2.2.1 Sector Analysis:

Education sector analysis was conducted for each district. Following set of indicators related to access and quality were proposed for sector analysis.

Access
Out of school children
School Availability Gap
Net Intake Rate (Primary)
Net Enrolment Rate Gap
GPI (GER) & GPI (NER)
Quality
Teachers
Students Teachers Ratio (Male & Female at School Level)
Survival and Completion Rate
Textbook Dissemination and Feedback
Assessment / Learning Outcomes

Non salary financial allocations, school environment, poverty and opportunity costs was also used as indicators, apart from the indicators in the above table.

District profiles were developed at the outset covering districts specific contexts related to socio-economic and ethno linguistic issues, demographics, sources of income. Year, gender and age wise population projections were made. Budgetary allocations to Primary, Middle, High, Higher Secondary schools and Elementary Colleges were analyzed for past 5 years. Education performance was analyzed in terms of access, quality of learning, governance and management and equity to determine the internal efficiency of education system performance of each district. Data analysis were also part of this exercise to see the trends in key education indicators as mentioned in the above table. Information from Elementary Colleges was also gathered and analyzed. Gender gaps were also analyzed in the process. Information gaps, if identified during the sector analysis, entailed development of strategy for filling these gaps. Estimates were used for sector analysis where there is any information gap and data cannot be obtained.

2.2.2 Identification and Prioritization of Strategies:

Key strategies were identified based on the sector analysis of the districts. Strategies were not devised ab initio rather, as already mentioned, these were taken from the Balochistan Education Sector Plan. The broad priorities, strategies identified in BESP were translated in terms of district level strategies and targets for quality, access, governance and management and equity as applicable, based on the sector analysis results.

2.2.3 Finalization of District Plans:

Based on the identification and prioritization of strategies detailed action plans (Result Matrix and Implementation Matrix) for the districts were developed with each plan spread over five years. The district plans included specific actions for each prioritized area and target, indicators for implementation and monitoring, a steering and management structure at district level along with reporting mechanism for both the district and provincial levels. Costing of the district plans will be carried out using the population projections of the respective districts and financial model of the Balochistan Education Sector Plan.

3 Gawadar District Profile

Historically a part of Makran, Gawadar was notified as a separate district in 1977. The district is along the sea in the south of Makran with a coastline of about 600 Kilometers. The district is bounded on the North by Kech and Awaran District, on the East by Lasbela District, on the south by the Arabia Sea and on the West by Iran. The principal tribe of District Gawadar is Baloch, which is further divided into sub-tribes that are: Kauhda, Hoath, Gichki, Kalmati, Dashti and Rind. Total area of the district is 12,637 square kilometers.

Administratively, the district is divided into four tehsils; Gawadar, Pasni, Jiwani and Ormara. Gawadar is further divided into five Union Councils (UC), Jiwani into two, Ormara and Pasni into two and four UCs respectively.

3.1 Population

According to the 1998 census the total population of the district was 186,000 which included 99,333 Males (53%) and 86,667 Females (47%). With the annual growth rate of 2.99% the projected population of the district in 2015 is estimated around 306 thousands in which males would be around 163 thousands (53%) and females about 143 thousands (47%). The average household size was 6 persons per household according to the 1998 Censuses. Population density like other districts in Balochistan is low in the district. In 1998, approximately 15 people resided per square kilometer area, whereas in 2010 only 21 persons lived per square kilometer¹.

3.2 Economic Endowments

The most significant feature of the Gawadar District is Gawadar Port, a deep sea warm water port. It is located on the eastern bay of a natural hammer-head protrusion of land, from the coast, distended into the apex of Arabian Sea. By virtue of its geographic location and developmental projects, Gawadar is going to be an advanced and developed coastal city at par with other famous coastal cities of the world in future as the district has been developing fast.

Fishing is primary source of income for the people of Gawadar and most of the families are involved in this sector in one way or the other. According to the 1998 Census, 31 per cent of district's population belongs to those people who are directly engaged in the fishing sector.

The data of the Directorate of Fisheries shows that full-time fishermen population has increased from 16,380 to 30,815 over a period of 15 years from 1995 to 2010. The other economic generating activities include Agriculture/horticulture, livestock and mining. Gawadar falls in the tropical agro-ecological zone bearing a total potential agricultural area of 50,219 hectares (Agriculture Statistics, 2008-09), which is approximately 4% of the total geographical area of District Gawadar. Major Rabi crop of district is vegetable followed by Lentil sharing 45.1% and 31.4% of the total Rabi crop area respectively. Major Kharif crop is fruit followed by vegetable sharing 98.7.4% and 0.7% of the total Kharif crop area respectively. On the livestock side, 85.70% of the livestock population comprises small ruminants, which shows that people prefer small ruminants as compared to large. The trend of keeping Goats is higher than the Sheep. Small livestock farmers, usually, have herd size up to 20-30 small ruminants. Sheep and goats are raised for multiple purposes: milk, mutton and reselling of male small ruminants in the market for economic gains. Good quality Limestone is the major mineral of the area followed by Salt and Sulphur. A Sulphur mine is operating near Pasni and occurrence of Sulphurated Hydrogen at Kallag was also reported.

3.3 Poverty & Child Labor:

According to District Development Profile 2011 the economic status of families is comparatively better in the district. The people get a good income due to business at Karachi, Iran and Oman, a huge number of people are employed in the Gulf and Middle Eastern countries and significant numbers are involved in fish business.

However a number of children are working as laborers. Majority of working children in the area find themselves working in deep-sea fishing, and boat making. Many children also take part in the daily operational activities of the newly developed port. In these workplaces, children are exposed to health hazards due to extreme climate conditions, overwork and exposure to chemicals and other dangers. No laws have been passed to protect the children working in the fishing industry.

3.4 State of Education

State of Education in district Gawadar is not very different from education situation in other districts in Balochistan. Access indicators of the district keep it relatively higher in order as compared to other districts in Balochistan but the quality indicators are weak. The district suffer from multiple issues in the backdrop of poverty and cultural constraints.

The education sector in the district comprises of public and private schools with varying quality. A total of 259 schools are operated by the public sector which include of primary, middle, high and higher secondary schools. 72% percent of these schools are in rural areas and 28% in urban areas.

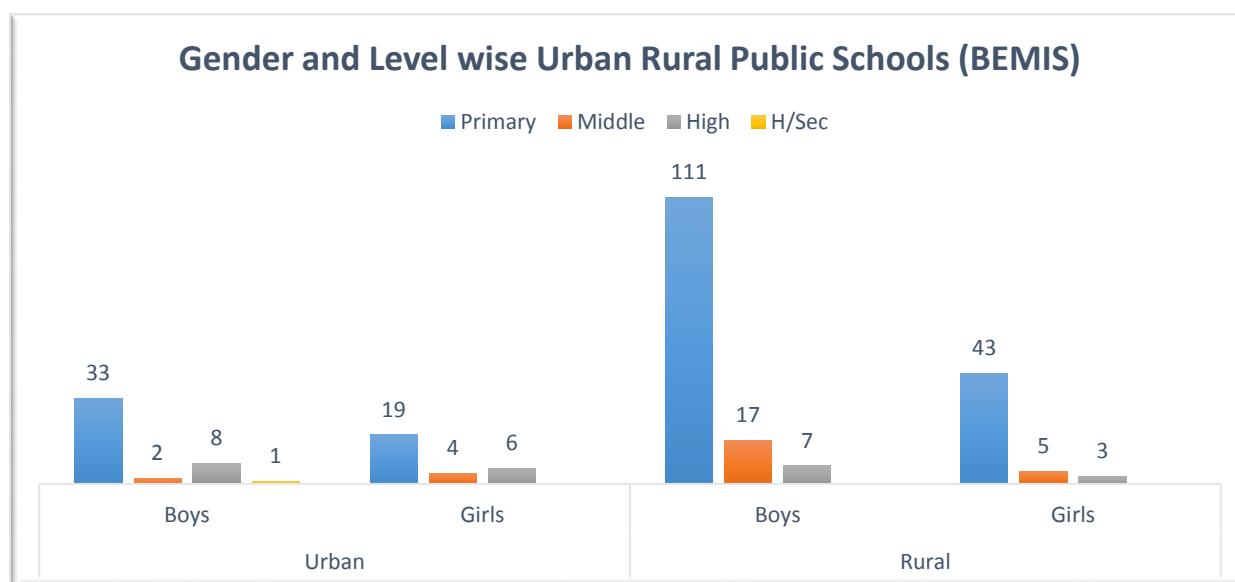

Rural urban breakdown of the public sector schools on the basis of level of education and gender is shown in the table.

PSLM data shows a high literacy rate in Gawadar as compared to other districts, it is ranked 4th after Quetta with Literacy rate of 50% in 15+ population and 56% in 10+ population. It is also third highest after Quetta and Sibi in female literacy with 25% literacy rate of 15+ population. The female literacy rate in 10+ population is 31%. The figures, though relatively higher in the Balochistan province, do not present a good picture when compared to districts in other provinces and region.

Access and quality of education in the district is still not very promising. Low population density leaves a lot of settlements without school and within some existing schools there are enrolment gaps. Missing facilities like water and toilets adversely affects the enrolment and retention. School availability bottleneck that appears at the primary to middle and secondary to higher secondary level further hampers the access situation. Teaching learning quality is a key concern in Gawadar district. Annual Status of Education Report 2014 shows poor learning outcomes of the students. Access and quality of education are discussed in detail in the sections 4 and 6 of the sector plan.

4 Access & Equity

Enrolment

In 2013, NER at primary level was recorded at 79% but it gradually decreased with the increase in the education level as at middle and secondary level, it was 49% and 25% respectively. Based on the data tabulated (Table 4.1) and presented (Figure 4.1) the net primary enrolment rate increased 26 percentage points in the past five years. Similarly the NER for middle education also increased 36 percentage points while NER of secondary education increased only 17 points. The indicator of NER of all the education levels have, though, increased but it is still far behind the target of 100%. The government will need to make drastic changes to improve the rate of increase of NER.

However the NER increase cannot be ensured through access based interventions only. Qualitative improvements, as seen in the following chapter, will also need to be introduced.

Gender Gap in NERs

The gender gaps in NER are assessed through calculating Gender Parity Index (GPI). At primary level since 2005, GPI is in favor of males while at the Middle level it gradually shifts in favor of males. At secondary level the GPI is highly in favor of males except in the year 2010-11.

Out of School Children

The absence of population census since 1998, non-availability of data on age cohorts and growth trends and the inability to factor in the private sector adequately makes it difficult to determine the number of out of school children. For the sector plan the number of out of school children has been calculated on the basis of NER with a 10 percent error margin introduced.

According to the estimates there are approximately 60,011 number of out of school children of age 6 to 15 in the district. This constitutes 69% of the total 86,826 children of school going age (6-15).

Level wise 64% of the primary school going age children are out of school. The percentage of out of school children increases at the middle and secondary school level where 70% and 84% are out of school respectively.

Gender wise 72% boys and 71% girls of 6-15 age group are out of school. The figure above shows the out of school children level and gender wise. Around 69% boys and 69% girls of age 6 to 10 are out of school. The percentages increase beyond primary where 68% girls, 70% boys of age 11-13 and 81% girls and 85% boys of age 14-15 are out of school.

The out of school children not only include children who never enrolled but also those who drop out of school. Gawadar also faces the issue of dropouts. BEMIS data shows survival rate of 61% at primary level, 74% at middle level and 88% at secondary level. Survival rate of girls is 55% at primary level where as it is 67% for boys at primary level.

The transition rate of Kachi to Primary over the past five years has been around 65 to 68%. Transition rate of primary to middle declined from 100% in 2009-10 to 89% in 2012-13 afterwards it increased by 8 percentage points in one year. Transition rate of middle to secondary is showing a declining trend for past three years.

4.1 Equity and Inclusiveness

The Glossary of Education Reform lists out several perspectives of equity and inclusiveness; societal, socioeconomic, cultural, familial, staffing, and instructional. The sector plan use these perspectives to analyze equity and inclusiveness in the district. Societal and cultural equity and inclusiveness is linked to the existence of bias and prejudice free society that does not generate any discrimination on the basis of race, ethnicity, language, religion, gender and disabilities. Like other districts in Balochistan marginalization of certain groups exists in district Gawadar. In most of the rural areas the common marginalization is of women, which result in the wider gender gaps. There are ethno linguistic differences which impact social cohesion. The likelihood of familial inequity must be high in the district because of poverty. Students belonging to unprivileged families having no literate/educated elders in the households or belonging to family units where incidence of violence is high, often remain unable to excel in studies. The district does not seem to suffer from staffing inequity as the schools are having an overall 1:25 teacher student ratios however the poor quality of teaching learning process creates instructional and programmatic inequity and affects the student's performance. Instructional and programmatic equity is discussed in detail in the quality section of this plan.

There appears to be limited recognition of the need for the education managers to respond to these needs with reference to schools.

Inclusive education concepts remain imperative to improved educational outcomes but the need has so far not been fully recognized. However, the concepts which have only recently been recognized at the provincial level have not permeated the district education systems and cannot be seen in schools.

4.2 Important Factors

Apart from the existing quality of education and teaching learning process with in class room there are some critical contributing factors which needs to be analyzed. These factors are discussed below.

4.2.1 School Availability and Utilization

As true for other parts of Balochistan, Gawadar has low population density. As described earlier population density in district Gawadar is as low as 21 persons per square kilometer. This situation leaves a lot of settlements without schools as many of these settlements do not qualify to have schools due to their size.

As opposed to 206 primary schools there are only 28 middle and 24 secondary schools while there is only 1 higher secondary school in the district. Overall the ratio of primary to middle is 7:1, for boys it is 8:1 and for girls it is 7:1. This becomes another factor for dropout beyond primary level.

Table 4.6: School Availability

School Availability ²
	Primary	Middle	Secondary	Higher Secondary	Total
Boys	144	19	15	1	179
Girls	62	09	09	0	80
Total	206	28	24	1	259

Source: BEMIS

Low utilization of existing teacher strength and schools is another factor. The enrolment gaps continue to exist even in populations and settlements with accessible primary schools. The teacher student ratio varies across schools but overall average at middle and high schools is low in the district as depicted in the table below.

Table 4.7: Teacher Student Ratio

	Appointed Teacher - Student Ratio			Sanctioned Teacher - Student Ratio
	Boys	Girls	Total	Boys	Girls	Total
Primary	39	48	42	35	42	38
Middle	26	68	36	19	34	24
High	21	74	31	10	21	13

Source: BEMIS

There is a potential to enroll more children in the existing infrastructure. The data shows that the schools are still underutilized.

At primary level the teacher room ratio may be another dimension to analyze the gap in the district. At primary level there are 677 rooms whereas the sanctioned post are 640 against which 569 are appointed that means still rooms are required to provide classroom to all the teachers.

4.2.2 Missing Facilities and School Environment

Missing and bad conditions of essentially required facilities like boundary wall, water and toilets adversely affects the enrolment and retention. Table below shows the situation of facilities available in schools in the district.

² The number of schools does not include primary and middle sections of secondary schools and primary sections of middle schools.

Table 4.8: Availability of Facilities in Schools

Availability of Facilities in Schools
	Boundary Wall			Water			Toilets			Electricity
	Male	Female	Total	Male	Female	Total	Male	Female	Total	Male	Female	Total
Primary	38%	56%	44%	41%	24%	36%	33%	42%	36%	20%	31%	23%
Middle	63%	100%	75%	74%	67%	71%	68%	89%	75%	21%	78%	39%
High	100%	100%	100%	87%	100%	92%	87%	89%	88%	80%	100%	88%

Source: BEMIS

Forty-four percent of the Girls primary schools are without boundary wall, 76% are without water and 58% are without toilets. The situation is not good in boy’s primary schools and even in schools beyond primary level. The non-availability of these basic amenities will need urgent attention from district authorities to generate demand and coordinate with the province for provision of missing facilities in all schools.

4.2.3 Poverty

Despite provision of free textbooks and abolition of school fee by Government of Balochistan, poverty continues to hamper the efforts of providing education to all children. The district has its share of poverty and often parents have to pull children out of school due to the increased opportunity costs and issues of low expectations. Moreover it appears that other expenses like transportation costs, uniform and stationary also creates hindrance for parents to send their children to school. The district authorities, within their limitations, will need to reduce these economic barriers to school entry and continuation.

4.2.4 Parent’s Illiteracy

Societal attitudes towards education are the most crucial factors and parent involvement and their perception of educational outcomes is a key for enhancing access to education. Parents’ involvement is also a pathway through which schools enhance the achievement of underperforming students. Their illiteracy also impacts attitudes towards education of both boys and girls. Being the key stakeholders it is imperative to keep them involved in the process.

4.2.5 Alternate Learning Pathways

The district does not have any direct role in targeting out of school children through non-formal education or alternate learning pathways to prepare out of school children return to regular institutions on a fast track basis. The main intervention in the area is carried out by the Balochistan Education Foundation (BEF) and the federal National Education Foundation (NEF). The BEF supports community and private schools through a 'public private partnership' process.

At present BEF operates 12 numbers of schools in the district with the assistance of the private sector.

Article 25-A and subsequently the Balochistan Compulsory Education Act 2014 reveals provision of education to all children of age group 5-16. The objective is only possible to be achieved by initiating meaningful alternate learning pathways in the district but unfortunately the mandate of ALP presently lies with social welfare department. The district, therefore has no direct role in this area but the identification of out of school children in the district and a roadmap for targeting these children through alternate learning pathways or non-formal education will be helpful in streamlining the provincial and federal ALP programmes.

5 Disaster Risk Reduction

Gawadar is vulnerable to many manmade and natural disasters. Natural disasters like floods, earthquakes, cyclones and tsunami are identified as key hazards for Gawadar by Provincial Disaster Management Agency.

Hazards	Drought	Floods	Earthquake	Landslides	C.Disease	Pests	Mines Acc	Cyclon.	Tsunami
		5	3					2	4

Scoring	5	4	3	2	1	-
	Very High	High	Medium	Low	Very Low	None

Apart from the above issues most of the school buildings in district do not comply with the hazard resistance designs, constructions and have no response plan for natural disasters. Against the manmade disasters and sabotage activities there is lack of preparedness in schools in terms of evacuation plans, designated evacuation areas, and safety awareness.

5.1 Objectives and Strategies

At present the district education authorities do not have a policy on mitigation of any of the above situations. While some of the issues may be difficult for district managers to handle on their own there is a need for a policy and a plan.

Objective: Develop & implement District DRR plan

Target

Prepare Plan for risk prevention, reduction, preparedness and school safety based on PDMA guidelines.

Strategies:

- i. Prepare a DRR plan in consultation with DEA, EFOs and head teachers.
- ii. Organize awareness sessions with students, head teachers, community and teachers.
- iii. Organize training for the teachers, head teachers and EFOs on DRR.

- iv. Provide necessary equipment to schools.
- v. Implement DRR Plan.

6 Quality and Relevance of Education

Quality of teaching learning process remains a key concern in Gawadar district. Data from ASER 2014 reveals poor learning achievements at primary level. The low survival and transition rates further underline the poor quality. The latter owes to a number of factors. Some of these are in control of the district government while responsibility for others like curriculum, textbooks and even pre-service teacher education lies with the provincial government. This limits the capacity of the district to control the quality of education but this cannot be accepted as an excuse as much still remains in the hands of the district authorities. This chapter explains the context in which district government operates, its own limitations and gaps and strategies that can be employed by it to improve quality.

6.1 Situation

Quality education does not have a standard definition but cognitive development is central to all formulations that describe quality in education. Cognitive development is seen as the critical-analytical ability of the child. Balochistan Education Sector Plan (BESP) explains quality along the 'Bloom's Taxonomy' pyramid. This has been reproduced below.

BESP asserts that children, in the given teaching learning process, do not move beyond the lowest tier of knowledge. This means higher order thinking does not develop. Recently published data of the 'Annual Status of Education Report' (ASER), reveals very poor reading and numeracy skills in children. This shows a major teaching failure and an obvious consequence of rote learning.

Table 6.1: Learning Outcomes - ASER 2014 Findings

Class 3			Class 5
Who can read sentence (Urdu)	Who can read word (English)	Who can do Subtraction	Who can read story (Urdu)	Who can read sentence (English)	Who can do 2 digit div
7	7.1	6.3	13.8	2.1	4.2
Reading Levels-Children for Class-5
Urdu	Nothing	Letters	Words	Sentence	Story
	0	3.1	25	62.5	9.4
English	Nothing	Letters		Words	Sentences
		Capital	Small
	9.5	24.2	44.2	20	2.1
Arithmetic	Nothing	Number recognition		Subtraction 2 digit	Division 2 digit
		0-9	#10-99
	3.1	3.1	41.7	47.9	4.2

As can be seen in table 6.1 above, only 9.4 percent children of grade 5 can read a story in Urdu and 2.1 percent children can read sentence in English. In Arithmetic only 4.2 percent children can do 2 digit division and only 44.8 percent can recognize numbers. These results cannot be blamed on the teacher alone. Other factors like the general policy on quality, choice of language of instruction, textbooks and examinations are all factors that lead to poor learning outcomes seen above.

6.2 District Limitations and Strengths

District officials have a number of limitations as per the structure of education, in ensuring quality of education. Among others, they do not control the quality of curriculum, textbooks, teacher recruitment and teacher training. The curriculum responsibility has shifted to the provincial government, from the Federal, after the 18th amendment. At present it lies with

Bureau of Curriculum and Extension Centre (BOC &EC). The Balochistan Textbook Board prepares textbooks. Pre-service teacher education is the responsibility of Government Colleges of Elementary Education (GCEs) and the private sector universities. In service teacher training is the responsibility of the Provincial Institute of Teacher Education (PITE).

Classroom teaching and learning remains the direct responsibility of the district tier as an extension of the Directorate of Schools (DOS). To undertake the task the district authorities have enough in the mandate and resources to make an impact. However, district authorities, in line with the general approach of the DOS, do not place quality on a priority. This needs to be changed. The following table shows the mandates of Federal, Provincial and District authorities in different areas of quality education:

Table 6.2: District, Provincial & Federal Mandates in Education Quality

Areas	Federal	Province	Districts
Curriculum	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> No role after 18th amendment but the extant curriculum was developed at federal level in 2006 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Has the mandate for development but has yet to acquire the capacity. Inclusive Education	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> No role 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Policy Provision of resources 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Implementation Feedback

Table 6.2 above shows that district levels can influence quality in a number of areas. In some of the rows the word ‘feedback’ has been added with a question mark. This marks a gap which needs to be filled in. The space available to districts to improve quality is not constrained by the entry in the tables. There are many actions which they can initiate without impinging provincial, or federal mandate.

6.3 Overarching Factors for Poor Education

Poor quality of the teaching learning process demonstrated in the results above owes to a number of factors that are cross cutting across all districts. Poor quality of teaching remains at the centre. Non-standardised teacher education is at the root of the poor learning processes in the classroom. The situation gets compounded by poor quality of textbooks, and an examination system that tests memory and not analytical-critical ability. Some of the key problems that lie beyond district control are:

1. Poor Quality of Pre-Service Teacher Education
2. Textbooks Quality
3. In-Service Teacher Education

4. Poor formative assessment system
5. BISE's Summative Assessment
6. Accountability Model (Excludes Quality)

6.4 District Related Factors of Poor Quality

There are a number of gaps at the district level which, if addressed, can help reduce the quality deficit even as implications of centralized policies continue to impact the situation.

6.4.1 Ownership of Quality in Education

As mentioned the education field officers at the district level are more concerned with issues of access, buildings and administrative matters like transfers and postings. Quality of teaching and learning is considered a low priority- if at all. Generally textbook board, PITE and BOC are considered as responsible for quality. Products of these organizations are accepted passively by the district.

6.4.2 Capacity of Field Teams

The Learning Coordinators assigned the task of monitoring quality of education in the field have little or no capacity to undertake the task. These are normally selected from senior teachers who are nearing retirement. They have normally used the rote memory approach themselves and receive no training in monitoring quality in schools. They are further handicapped by a lack of resources to visit schools.

6.4.3 Accountability Model of Head Teachers

Head teachers are normally held accountable for absenteeism of teachers and coverage of syllabi. Learning of children is not considered except at the secondary level where the examinations conducted by the Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education become a test of quality. However, it remains an imperfect benchmark as head teachers cannot be held accountable for the terminal examination at the end of ten years of education alone. Much else needs to be built into the accountability model.

6.4.4 No Data Compilation and Feedback

There is no culture of data based monitoring and feedback. The district level assists in collection of data for BEMIS but rarely, if ever, uses the information. There is no culture of data collection beyond BEMIS requirements and absolutely no usage. Monitoring continues to be seen as a function of ability to visit schools and not a systemic approach of collecting and analyzing data. While this is relevant to quality improvement it has a broader mandate and has therefore been discussed in greater detail in the next chapter on ‘Governance and Management’.

6.4.5 Curriculum Implementation and Feedback

Field research in the district shows that neither the district authorities nor teachers and head teachers have any idea of curriculum and its structure. Moreover teachers, head teachers and district officials do not provide any structured feedback to the provincial government on curriculum. While curriculum review and development is the responsibility of province, the district authorities can disseminate the curriculum and ensure that teacher and head teachers are aware of its objectives and contents and may ensure its implementation in classroom teaching.

6.4.6 Textbooks Distribution and Feedback

As already stated above textbooks continue to have quality issues that reduce the effectiveness of the teaching learning process. Textbooks taught in classrooms often do not cater to the learning requirements of the district; other problems in textbooks include difficulty of language and poor explanation of concepts. Field research shows that the new books developed in the light of curriculum 2006 are better than the previous ones in many attributes but still much work is required to bring these books at par with international standards.

Like curriculum, textbooks development is the responsibility of province, district level responsibility includes distribution of textbooks since the government decided to provide free textbooks to all children. Visit to the field in district showed that a lot of improvement in timely distribution of textbooks in the district has been made in the current academic session but still the transportation mechanism and the demand generation and feedback mechanism on textbooks to the province is missing. The district needs to come up with a plan (calendar) to ensure timely distribution of textbooks to all schools and students in coordination with the province and to make arrangements like maintenance of book banks to cope with delays in distribution and shortages of textbooks. Apart from distribution mechanism, the district also needs to develop a mechanism to convey the demand for quality textbooks by instituting a feedback system from teachers, head teachers and students.

6.4.7 Professional Development

Enhancing the knowledge and skills of teachers and head teachers is an essential element in the efforts to improve quality of education. Teacher’s professional development is directly linked to the educational outcomes and this should clearly be a demand from the district level. Conversely the teacher training is undertaken as supply side initiative wherein PITE and BOC develop training programmes based on donor funding. Lately the Government of Balochistan has started providing budgets for trainings but even these are being spent on programmes designed by the supply side organizations. District only selects teachers for these trainings but even here teachers associations control the actual selection process. District has developed no database and no mechanism for follow up or monitoring of teachers training.

6.4.8 Teachers Availability

Teachers' availability in the district needs attention as the shortage of teachers in particular subjects contributes to poor learning outcomes. The district needs to evaluate shortages according to the needs and develop demands projections. This will entail coordination with the province for increase in sanctioned posts and to fill the existing gaps in teacher availability. Partly, teachers' availability issue can also be resolved by redeploying the available teachers to schools where they are needed. This can be done by developing teachers' redeployment plan on the basis of evaluation of shortages and existing deployment of teachers. Absenteeism is another issue which needs the attention of district authorities. The current approach to inspection and monitoring requires review and should include ICT approaches to reduce absenteeism of teachers and also to ensure the quality of teaching which will entail development of quality focused inspection and monitoring tools.

6.4.9 Assessments

Traditionally schools would regularly conduct formative assessments in the form of monthly tests. The practice has been discontinued in most schools except where an effective head teacher enforces it. Additionally the formative assessments, where conducted, lack standards and induce rote learning in the classrooms. Exams are based solely on the textbooks as the teachers and head teachers are not trained in developing assessment tools and they lack knowledge about the curriculum. Cheating in public examinations has been identified as another issue during the field research in district which depraves the assessment system. Moreover there is no database of formative and summative assessments being conducted in schools which can be used by district education authorities for analysis and providing feedback to schools for improvements.

6.4.10 Early Childhood Education (ECE)

Early Childhood Education (ECE) is considered essential to long-term cognitive development and it functions as the basis for a quality education. ECE requires awareness of parents, head teachers and teachers alike. Field visits to the district showed that it is a neglected area and concepts of ECE are not understood. Most education managers and decision makers are not aware of the importance of ECE and therefore it lacks focus. The district also lacks separate and equipped rooms and teaching and non-teaching staff for ECE.

6.4.11 Availability and Use of Libraries & Laboratories

There are only limited numbers of libraries in the district. Selection of books is also a problem as neither head teachers nor teachers have any interest and training in selection of books for libraries. Availability of science and computer laboratories is also limited. Moreover district education managers and head teachers do not take interest in the maintenance and operationability of libraries and laboratories which further hampers their usage as these limited facilities lack books and materials. The functionality of laboratories depend on replenishment of consumables, the district authorities needs to plan and ask the province to ensure provision of a minimum budget for replenishment of laboratories and up gradation of libraries.

6.4.12 School Environment

Schools, as learning institutions must have conducive environment for education. Most schools in the district do not provide the required environment. The most crucial factors which came up during the field research are coercion culture with corporal punishment, erosion of co-curricular activities from school programmes, unfriendly school construction and missing facilities. The coercion culture in the schools discourages questions and hampers the ability of child to learn in a friendly environment and also leads to dropouts. The co-curricular activities including sports, speech and quiz competitions, and skits are nonexistent in the schools. The district needs to ensure that head teachers plan co-curricular activities in all schools and education managers monitor these activities.

7 Governance and Management

Gawadar follows the standard model structure followed in all districts. Governance and management in the district also faces, mostly, typical challenges of teacher absenteeism, influence of teachers association, weak monitoring and others. This chapter discusses these administrative challenges which include financial resource availability and autonomy.

7.1 Situation

District education set ups have gone through a number of changes over the last 15 years. In 2002 education, as a subject, was devolved to the districts and then reverted in 2009 when the devolution law of 2002 was replaced with the new local government act of the government of Balochistan.

Provincial level control has in the past, often, led to centralization of routine operational decisions like transfers and postings and financial expenditure. Recently the provincial education secretariat has made some critical changes to delegate operations decisions to the district level and below.

Three bodies have emerged at the district level to help improve management:

- i. District Education Group
- ii. District Education Authority
- iii. School Clusters

District Education Group was notified in September 2013 as part of the implementation framework of the Balochistan Education Sector Plan (BESP). DEG is headed by the District Education Officer who acts as the chairman. The composition is as follows:

Table 7.1: District Education Group Composition

Chairman	District Education Officer
Secretary	District Officer Education(Male)
Members	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● District Officer Education (Female) ● Representative of Deputy Commissioner ● Principal Govt. Degree College (Boys) ● Principal Govt. Degree College (Girls) ● Principal Elementary College ● Representative from Local NGO ● Social Welfare Officer ● District Health Officer (Health Dept) ● District Account Officer/ Treasury ● Representative from Teacher’s Union ● Representative from Civil Society (2)

DEG has the following responsibilities:

1. To promote educational awareness at district level.
2. To plan, coordinate and support in increasing enrolment and relation at district level.
3. To monitor absenteeism of officers, officials and teachers.
4. To monitor and ensure proper functioning of educational institutions at district level.
5. To discuss and resolve grievances of teachers and employees at district level.
6. To discuss and resolve grievances of public regarding educational affairs.
7. To mobilize community and encourage their participation in educational matters.
8. To support and ensure proper implementation of Balochistan Education Sector Plan.

District Education Authority was notified in February 2014 with the objective of providing support to the District Education Officer in difficult decisions with potential political ramifications. Composition of DEA is as follows:

Table 7.2: District Education Authority Composition

Chairman	District Education Officer
Members	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Deputy Commissioner or his Representative • District Account Officer/ Treasury or his representative • District Officer Education(Female) • District Officer Education(Male) • The deputy District Officers (Female and male) with regard to issues to their respective jurisdiction • The Head Master Mistress with regard to issues related to the school teachers/staff of their respective schools • Female/ Male Education Coordinators with respect to issues of teachers posted in their respective jurisdiction

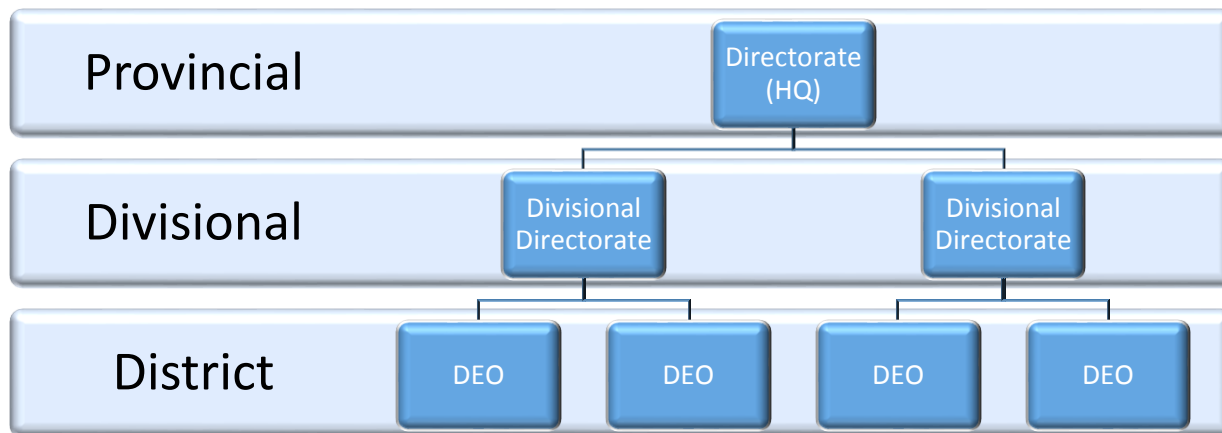

Terms of reference of DEA have not been notified officially. Practically DEA has been involved in decisions of long leave of teachers (e.g. study leave) . DEA has also been involved in decisions on transfers and postings.

School Based Clusters: as part of delegation of powers clusters have been formed at school level. A high school functions as the central point (or head) of the cluster which caters to all primary and middle schools in a nearby range. Head teacher of the High School functions as the head of the cluster. The cluster has a number of uses. Firstly a number of financial powers for procurement have been delegated to these clusters. Secondly these clusters are expected to be at the center of the continuous professional development programme developed by Department of Education and Provincial Institute of Teacher Education.

7.1.1 General Structure

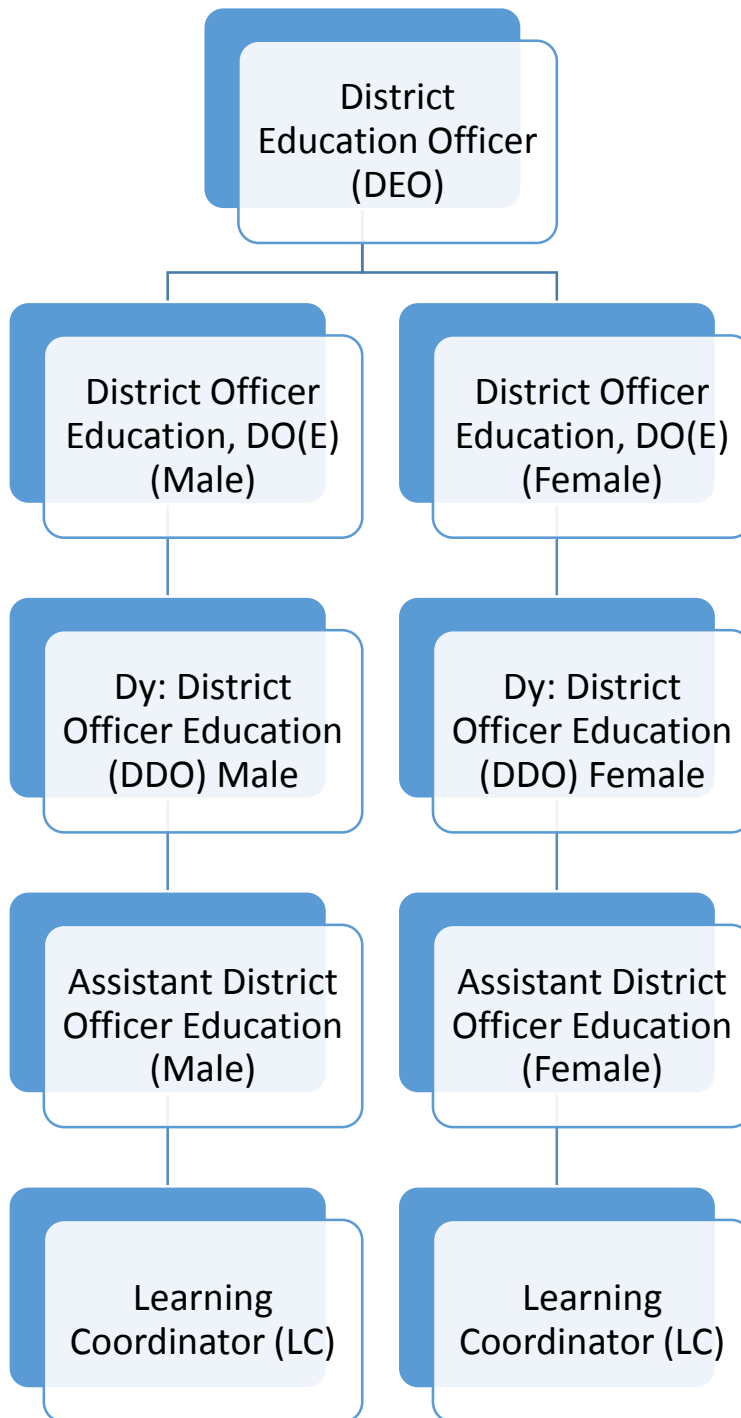

The governance structure of education in the province is divided into the secretariat and the Directorate. The former, headed by a Secretary, has the role of overall supervision and policy making. The Directorate of Schools functions as the main technical unit responsible for education service delivery. The Directorate has three functional tiers: the provincial headquarters, Divisional Directorates and the district education offices, as shown in the diagram below:

The traditional structure at the district level consists of a District Education Officer (DEO) who heads the district education system. The DEO is supported by a number of officers including separated officers for male and female schools management.

The DEO and his or her team have the task of management of schools in the district in an efficient and effective manner.

7.2 District Mandate

The district unit directly controls schools and teachers, and consequently, has the mandate of quality service delivery to students. Simply stated, it has the responsibility to ensure delivery of education on ground as per requirements of Article 25 A of the Constitution and the consequent legislation on compulsory education. This means the district unit has to provide free quality education for all children in the district. Under the Compulsory Education Act 2014 definition of free education includes meals, transportation and textbooks. In the current state the district offices do not have the capacity to deliver on all three. Additionally the units are not only requiring to manage government schools but also regulate the private ones.

7.2.1 Key Problems

The generally low performance of the education sector, as seen in the earlier chapter on access shows that problems exist in the governance structure. These are mostly typical issues, endemically found in most districts.

7.2.1.1 Capacity Gaps

District officials are selected from among the teachers and there is no established system to train DEO and his team. This limits the ability to effectively administer the authority. Like all districts DEOs are selected from amongst teachers which means that experience of management is lacking. No system of training at induction exists. Also there is no separate cadre for managers which makes DEOs 'vulnerable' to reversion to teaching. As DEO positions are seen as more prestigious, by many, this vulnerability reduces the confidence of the DEO. The better DEOs in the system have arrived by default and not any structured design.

7.2.1.2 Monitoring Model

A data, or information, based monitoring model does not exist in the district. Monitoring is seen as a function of visits to schools only. Systemic data collection and use does not exist. As already mentioned in the chapter on quality district units simply assist the provincial EMIS in provision of data they do not use the information themselves. A lot of information lying (or generated) at the district level remains unutilized in the absence of a systematic collection and placing into a data base. With reliance on school visits only the DEO and his staff complain of lack of resources. While the latter may be true to an extent but the bigger problem lies in the model.

Even in case of visits to schools a structured proforma has not been developed to evaluate schools and also no system exists of collating school reports into a database. Resultantly, mostly, no follow up takes place. Only where individual DEO takes interest some follow up is undertaken. Resultantly school improvement does not take place. Learning coordinators assigned the task of school visits form the weakest link in the structure. They are normally teachers nearing retirement who have neither the training nor the will to undertake the task of school visits.

Similar problems exist with head teachers who are normally not trained in their job. Exceptional cases can be seen where they are able to get some improvements in motion. But in the absence of training the ability to improve schools remains limited. Politicization and role of teachers' associations also impacts the capacity.

7.2.1.3 Teachers Associations

Teachers associations have become very powerful over the years. These associations have the ability to influence decisions of the DEO and hence hamper effective management. Decisions on transfers and postings and disciplinary proceedings are resisted by the associations. This makes it difficult for the management to hold teachers accountable. The associations now also actively influence to decisions by the BISE to select invigilators and superintendents to conduct the examinations held by it. The motive to influence is driven, mostly, by the lucrative options available due to endemic cheating in examinations.

7.3 Financial Situation

Figure 7.2 below shows that there has been a general upward trend in the recurrent budget for Gawadar. Figure 7.3 further below shows that the increase in this budget, as a percentage of the previous, has been sharp after 2012-13.

source

The increase between 2010-11 and 2011-12 was 11%, which took a dip in the next year and decreased by 11 percentage points for 2012-13. The budget increased in the next year with 13 percentage points and peaked at 2014-15 at 19%. This shows massive jumps in the budget.

The figure 7.4 below shows that as compared to 2010-11 salaries of primary school teachers and high school teachers have increased by 69% and 76% respectively. Salaries of middle schools teachers actually decreased by 16 percentage points.

Figure 7.5 shows budget share for each level; Primary, middle and secondary. High schools absorb 51% of the budget, primary 25% and middle 24 percent.

Figure 7.6 shows the trend for non-salary which is declining. This again reveals the pressure placed by the 'time scale' approach on overall budgets. Declining non salary budget reduces the ability of districts, head teachers and teachers to facilitate learning. In case of high schools where functional laboratories are a pre-requisite to learning of science this can completely derail the process.

The per child expenditure for Gawadar comes to Rs. 11,719 which is below the average for Balochistan at Rs. 17,743.

Figure 7.7: Total Per Child Cost 2014-15

Given the budgetary allocations and the fact that a number of high schools also have middle and primary sections it has not been possible to calculate per child expenditure at each level exactly. The graphs below show an approximate picture³.

The high per child cost reveals major inefficiencies combined with poor learning outcomes.

7.3.1 Financial Management

In general EFOs and head teachers never receive any formal training on financial management. This, often, leaves them hostage to the support staff who have more experience of accounting. Historically major procurements were centralized. With the recent delegation of powers, a number of procurements have been transferred to the cluster level. This should improve the pace of decision making but at the same time it will increase the risk of corruption and mismanagement. To counter the risk the Secretariat and, also district education officer, will have to develop strong internal controls. Without better internal audit mechanisms it will not be possible to have effective decentralization.

7.3.2 Private Sector Regulation

Given the requirements of Article 25A the district units need to regulate quality of education in these schools. At present no regulation takes place on ground as it is a low priority for district authorities. Also they do not have the capacity to undertake the task. The statute governing private schools also needs to be revised as the sector has grown much beyond the time of current law passed in 1961. Also the needs have shifted due to the compulsory education act.

District Authorities have to ensure that no child has to deviate from the free education required by statute. Again no model for public private partnership exists in the district to use this resource for betterment of students.

7.3.3 Multiple Supervisory Bodies

As already seen above there is overlap in the mandates of the District Education Group and the District Education Authority. As at present rules or terms of reference have not been developed for the latter there is a possibility of reducing this confusion and assign different areas to the two groups.

7.4 School Management Issues

Schools as self-contained units of education delivery have a number of problems. Again similar to other matters, discussed in the chapter on quality, the division across district and provincial mandates makes it difficult to have clear responsibilities for the school. Many schools simply lack basic facilities and have limited, if any, powers to impact the situation. A number of primary schools have single or two teachers, with no head teacher. In other cases head teachers have little training and even where they want to be effective teachers, often, have more powers through political connections and support of the associations. Despite these limitations, which are not universal, schools can be made better places of learning. The main hurdles to improvement are:

- i. Head teachers have no training for the job. Mostly senior most teachers fill these positions without any training. Recently though the provincial government has hired qualified young people for the job and has also trained them. Again the number of such head teachers is limited. In case of head teachers from high schools the responsibilities will increase as they will now also be heads of clusters. Their responsibilities will include financial management of the cluster schools and also facilitating the continuous professional development programme.

- ii. Secondly there is a massive planning deficit at the school level. The main target is completion of syllabi. There are no plans to improve the learning process and managing day to day affairs of the school.
- iii. Community, which can act as an important support to schools, remains weakly engaged. The Parent Teacher School Management Committees (PTSMCs) mostly remain inactive. There are a number of reasons for the lack of effectiveness of PTSMCs. An important reason being the inability of head teachers to mobilize community effectively.

7.5 Objectives and Strategies
